I am pleased to offer audit services for EASA's new Accreditation Program.

I am a Professional Engineer specializing in electric motors, drives and energy efficiency. I have been consulting to EASA shops since 1988 for quality, business practices, technical and marketing services over that time. I have established and registered ISO 9000 quality assurance programs for many EASA members. I have also been an ISO 9000 auditor since 1994 and the auditor for the EASA-Q program since its inception. Needless to say, I know the motor and power transmission repair and sales business very well.

As an auditor, I have learned how to seek out compliance within a company to establish how they have met the standard. I also offer suggestions and recommendations for improvement, drawing on my experience with many shops.

I would be pleased to speak with you about auditing your facility for EASA's new Accreditation Program.

Sincerely,

Dan Dederer, P.Eng.
